- VENDOR MANAGEMENT:

The vendor management process is a series of strategic and tactical activities that companies use to manage and collaborate with vendors. This includes setting objectives, establishing vendor selection criteria, negotiating contracts, strategizing for risk reduction, and controlling for cost and delivery.

- WARE HOUSE:

Principal

Bangalore North - 562 157.

A building, or a part of one, for the storage of goods, merchandise, etc. British. a large retail store. a building, or a part of one, in which wholesalers keep large stocks of merchandise, which they display and sell to retailers. The goods will store in the warehouse so that the at any cost of time the product should available to customer. The product which is not in warehouse they will contact to main branch and the main brand of the company will contact to manufacturing factory and they will provide this product with in 1 week in a bulk amount after that the company will accept the customer product.

- AUCTION:

Auctioning means selling a product or service to the highest bidder. The final price is achieved when a particular end time of the auction is reached or when no higher offers are received. This allows the company to sell at the highest price acceptable to the customer. The customer benefits from the opportunity to influence the price of a product.

Principal
International Institute of Business Studies
75, Muthugadahalli, Jala Hobli,
Bangalore North - 562 157.

There are four major auction types:

- (1) the ascending-bid (open, oral, or English) auction.
- (2) the descending-bid (Dutch) auction.
- (3) the first-price, sealed-bid auction.
- (4) the second-price, sealed-bid (Vickrey) auction.

- The ascending-bid auction:

In it, the auctioneer opens the bidding at a reserve price (which may be zero), the lowest price he is willing to accept for the item. Once a bidder has announced interest at that price, the auctioneer solicits further bids, usually raising the price by a predetermined bid increment. This continues until no one is willing to increase the bid any further, at which point the auction is closed and the final bidder receives the item at his bid price. Because the winner pays his bid, this type of auction is known as a first-price auction.

- The descending-bid auction:

It also a first-price auction, is descending. That is, the auctioneer begins at a high price, higher than he believes the item will fetch, then decreases the price until a bidder finally calls out, "Mine!" The bidder then receives the item at the price at which he made the call. If multiple items are offered, the process continues until all items are sold.

- The first-price, sealed-bid auction:

In this mechanism, each bidder submits a single bid in a sealed envelope. Then, all of the envelopes are opened and the highest bidder is announced, and he receives the item at his bid price. This type of auction is most often used for refinancing credit and FOREIGN EXCHANGE, among other.

Principal

- The second-price, sealed-bid (Vickrey) auction:

As in the first-price, sealed-bid auction, bidders submit sealed envelopes in one round of bid submission. The highest bidder wins the item, but at the price offered by the second-highest bidder (or, in a multiple-item case, the highest unsuccessful bid).

- CUSTOMER SUPPORT:

Customer service is the direct one-on-one interaction between a consumer making a purchase and a representative of the company that is selling it. Most retailers see this direct interaction as a critical factor in ensuring buyer satisfaction and encouraging repeat business.

KEY TAKAWAYS

- Customer service is the interaction between the buyer of a product and the company that sells it.
- Good customer service is critical to business success, ensuring brand loyalty one customer at a time.
- Recent innovations have focused on automating customer service systems but the human element is, in some cases, indispensable.

- PMS (PROPERTY MANAGEMENT SYSTEM):

A Property Management System (PMS) takes care of the day-to-day front-desk functions of an accommodation business. These tasks could include managing bookings, check-in and check-out, billing, budgeting and accounting, inventory management, reporting and guest information.

PMS is also used in manufacturing industries, local government and manufacturing. A property management system is sometimes referred to as a hotel operating system or hotel OS. This is used for management the product with the price of customer and the product how much it should be given to the company. The company will buy a product in other to give to customer in how much price that the customer should get satisfied by the company.

- QA(Quality assurance):

T. Jamm

Principal
International Institute of Business Studies
75, Muthugadahalli, Jala Hobli,
Bangalore North - 562 157.

Quality assurance (QA) is any systematic process of determining whether a product or service meets specified requirements. QA establishes and maintains set requirements for developing or manufacturing reliable products. In this the customer will accept the product depend upon his quality. If quality is well and the product will used for long period then customer will by this product in low price and bluck amount.

Quality assurance comprises administrative and procedural activities implemented in a quality system so that requirements and goals for a product, service or activity will be accomplished.^[3] It is the systematic measurement, comparison with a standard, and monitoring of processes in an associated feedback loop that confers error prevention. This can be contrasted with quality control, which is focused on process output.

● TASK MANGMENT:

Task management is an activity in which an individual or team leader tracks a task throughout its life cycle and makes decisions based on the progress. Task management is done using software tools that help effectively organize and manage tasks by using functions such as task creation, planning and assignment, tracking and reporting. Task management tools are used to track personal, group or shared tasks. The tools may be free or premium software applications, and run in either standalone, LAN-based or Web-based mode. The size and functions of the tools depend on the requirements of the task and on whether they are used for an individual, small-sized or medium-sized business or for a corporate task management's activity.

PACKING OF PRODUCT:

This is how they will make the packing of the product. The product will be packed in strong cardboard boxes so that it would not get any damage during the delivery. They will pack a huge amount of product after packing of products which is needed for the customer. Then they will bill the product. And there will be 2 copies, one they will keep in the packed bag and the other one with the company. The product will be delivered within 2 or 3 days, as per the customer's need.

Namma Metro, also known as Bengaluru Metro, is a rapid transit system serving the city of Bengaluru, India. Upon its inauguration, it became the first underground metro system in South India. Namma Metro has a mix of underground, at grade, and elevated stations. The system runs on standard-gauge tracks.

As Namma Metro is one of the important means of transport for Bangaloreans, we thought of knowing the software/applications and their features used to provide services for their customers.

- Do they have an application?

Yes, we had a brief conversation with an executive staff and found out they used an android application and a web application.

● Our Experience

We reached the Baiyappanahalli Metro station with a hope of contacting the manager. But unfortunately it wasn't easy to get in contact with the manager of namma metro and when we enquired same with the customer care of Namma Metro we were given opportunity to ask our quires to one of the assistant Staff of namma metro at the station itself.

As the data is very confidential we weren't able to gather sensitive information like:

- Programming languages used in their software
- Other Applications used by the ticket counter staffs
- Cloud Services used by namma metro
- Information related to software structure or architecture
