Industry Internship Programme is a transitioning phase to students from Theoretical knowledge to Practical applicability; a bridge from Classroom to Corporate Journey. It enables them to acquire hands on experience about the industry.

Industry Internship Programme provides an opportunity for students to investigate a problem applying management concept in a scientific manner. It enables to apply conceptual knowledge in a practical situation and to learn the art of conducting a study in a systematic way and presenting its finding in coherent report. The study can deal with a small or big issue in a division or an organization, the problem can be from any discipline of management.

With an intensive study on a topic, students would explore the subject in detail, gather information and explain the same. ~~Students~~ <sup>Participants</sup> are expected to identify challenges if any after investigation, the methods used to solve the problem, the results of the investigation and the conclusions inferred and a set of recommendations that can be implemented.

ORIENTATION TO PROJECT WORK

Introduction

A student's disposition to work as part of an educational programme is strengthened by a sense of purpose. In project work, the students are looked at from a different perspective, seeing them in terms of what they can do and how they might use, for their own purposes, the skills they have already acquired. This allows students to take ownership of some of the work and accept responsibility for the amount of effort and the quality of the ideas that they bring to the activity or resulting product.

Objectives of the project work

1. To provide an opportunity for experiential learning
2. To improve the ability to think logically and critically
3. To improve the ability to communicate
4. To develop analytical ability and personal involvement
5. To strengthen the theoretical aspects learned in the course and provide the opportunity to evaluate critically previously learned theories
6. To integrate the knowledge and skills with practical life situations

task

1. Identify the case/project
2. Visit the place/organization/group/individual etc. several times as the case may be
3. Understand the case (Observe carefully; have a detailed discussion /interview)
4. Analyse the key aspects in the context of the theory presented in your course.
5. Study the structure, functioning, linkages and performance.
6. Identify strengths, weaknesses, opportunities, challenges and problems
7. Analyse the case in structural, functional, technological and economic perspectives (apply conceptual frameworks from your course to real situations and integrate topics in your analysis)
8. Develop and compare alternative solutions to the problems
9. Consider the advantages and disadvantages of various possible solutions
10. Select the best solution and make recommendations for action
11. Write your report in the given format.

To understand the project

You should identify the facts related to the project case. The following questions can guide you in doing this.

1. What is the mission/aim of the project case? (Enterprise/ Unit/ Individual or group farm or firm or enterprise/ Organization/ Institution etc.)
2. What is the structure?
3. What are the functions?
4. Who are the "stakeholders"?

Principal

International Institute of Business Studies
75, Muthugadahalli, Jala Hobli,
Bangalore North - 562 157.

5. What is the formal decision making process?
6. What is the informal decision making process?
7. What is the process of production or service delivery?
8. Who are the competitors?
9. What are the strengths, weaknesses, opportunities and challenges?
10. What are the problems?
11. What is the role of management in relation to the problem?
12. What is the role of production/service in relation to the problem?

What to do?

You have to identify a project related your course programme. A case here can be an individual (farmer, entrepreneur etc.), a group, a firm, a farm, an organisation, an event, a product or even a process. You have to select a successful or failed case. It is preferable to select a successful one. Eg: A successfully run organic farm, or a successful organic farmer can be case in OAM; Similarly a plant nursery/ nursery owner can be the case of PNM; while a fruit processing unit/entrepreneur /a popular branded product can be a case in PHM. These are only suggestive examples. You can take any activity you feel relevant to your course

Visit/approach the case, collect all the possible details and make an in-depth analysis in terms of its structure, functioning, linkages and performance. Based on this a detailed project report has to be typed and submitted online.

Structure of the Project Report

1. Introduction ( introduce the topic of the project)
2. Process description (Describe the process of project analysis i.e., the method you followed for collecting the information and the work you for preparing this project.)
3. Genesis and Background ( how this project case originated as an entrepreneurial entity/unit)
4. Organizational setup (Leader, persons, members involved, their relationship, etc.)
5. Management functions (Planning, Organizing, Budgeting, Controlling, Human relations etc.)
6. Technological analysis (Details of the techniques & technologies used in the unit/ case).
7. Economic analysis (Economic performance in terms of investment, capital and its source, fixed and operational expenses, income, profit/ loss, benefit: cost, NPV, etc.)
8. SWOC analysis (You have to detail the strengths, weaknesses, opportunities and challenges of the project case.)
9. Management efficiency (Explain how efficiently the functions of management are carried out in production, marketing, financing, etc.)
10. Why Interpretation & Inferences (You could draw inferences and interpret it whether it is a success or failure, based on your analysis. i.e., based on analysis made by you in terms of SWOC analysis, management efficiency analysis, Economic analysis, Technological analysis, etc.)
11. Suggestions for improvement.
12. Conclusions
